George "Buzzy" Butler Secretly Resigns as Head Baseball and Assistant Basketball Coach

Prov. Campus Student Included

by Gary Muzio

Seven Arrested in Dorm Drug Raid

Pete Greenberg
Pete Bouffidis

In lieu of widely spread rumors concerning Coach Butler's resignation circulating around the campuses of both Providence and Bristol; and by reliable sources connected with the Quill, and after repeated prodding of Administrative officials for information leading to the confirmation of these reports; Coach Thomas Drennan today reconfirmed Quill allegations that Mr. Butler had indeed resigned.

The Quill unofficially learned of Butler's action two weeks ago when one of our writers stumbled into a conversation with one of the Hawks top ball-players. The conversation went precisely and accurately as follows:

Quill: "I heard of Buzzy Butler's resignation."

Basketball Player: "Oh, that's old. He handed that in a long time ago, near the beginning of the season."

Quill: "What's your reaction? Good or bad?"

Basketball Player: "That's Bad"

Quill: "Why? Who do you think is more efficient; Drennan or Butler?"

Basketball Player: Butler! He has more experience, but Drennan's still the head coach and does most of the coaching."

However, on Feb. 3, 1972, all the rumors and facts began to fall into their rightful place. The Quill telephoned the Athletic Office and asked to speak with Coach Drennan. Mr. Drennan was asked if Mr. Butler had resigned and he said yes. He went on to add, "A letter of resignation was addressed to me and I read it over and forwarded it to my boss—Dean McKenna at the Providence campus. Both Dean McKenna and I sat down and discussed the matter. I also talked with Mr. Butler very briefly on the matter and we had agreed and decided to discuss the matter at length at a later date. The resignation is effective June 30, 1972."

Attempts by the Quill to reach Mr. Butler for comment were unsuccessful. Mr. Butler is a teacher at Thomas Junior High School in Newport and it is believed he will devote his free time there.

The Quill asked Mr. Drennan for a further statement, and he stated "Mr. Butler has been a close personal friend for a number of years and continues to be. I have the highest regard for his work both morally and professionally."

This is Mr. Butler's third year with RWC. He brought 14 years of coaching experience on the high school level to the Hawks. He began his career at the Portsmouth Priory while still a student at Providence College. He later served as assistant to the late Jackie Allen at De La Salle, then succeeded him when Allen left to go to Massachusetts to coach. In 1966 Butler moved to Tiverton High School where he helped to develop their first interscholastic program.

A resident of Portsmouth, R.I. and the father of 6 children, Mr. Butler is married to the former Juanita Drogos.

Monday morning, January 31 was in the process of becoming a bright sunny day. It was 7 a.m. The campus was quiet, its residents slept, oblivious to what was outside. For six people in the dormitory this normal oblivion was about to become their downfall.

Seven plainclothes state police detectives and two uniform state police officers were at the boilerroom confronting substitute security guard Bessette with arrest warrants for the seven students. They ordered Mr. Bessette to open the dormitory so their business could be carried out. A short time later the first drug raid ever on the campus of Roger Williams College was history.

Those arrested were, Jane E. Berube, a freshman, room 110 of unit 1 for sale and possession of hashish; Denise A. Cerra, 19, a sophomore, room 253, unit 3, for sale and possession of L.S.D.; Richard Lager, 18, a freshman, room 512, unit 9, for sale and possession of marijuana, Benvenuto Rosario, 18, room 606, unit 9, for possession and sale of an hallucinogenic drug, John F. O'Keefe III 22, a senior for possession of marijuana and one juvenile who was charged with sale and possession of marijuana. In addition, one Prov. Campus student, Gilbert V. Aguiar was arrested at his home. He was charged with sale and possession of heroin.

Those charged were to be arraigned in East Providence District Court with the exception of the juvenile who was referred to family court. One student, Benvenuto Rosario, was scheduled to depart for Sicily the next day. Upon learning this information, officials agreed to postpone the trial until a later date so he could leave as planned. Bail was allegedly set at $5,000 for sale and $1,000 for possession.

Lt. Joseph E. Broadmeadow, State Police detective head, said the arrests followed an undercover investigation by Detective Leon Blanchette and Richard Sullivan which began in the middle of December with the actual purchase of the drugs by the undercover agents.

SECURITY FAULTY?

Security, which has long since been classified a problem, on the Bristol campus, seems to have been faulty in this situation. Mr. Bessette, who was substituting for an ill Mr. Hutchinson on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift, clearly did not know the correct procedure to follow. Head of Security George Wilding reiterated this fact. "He should have called Bristol dorm director Hal Conner. No one knew anything about it. Not Hal, not me, nobody! I found out when I came in the next morning. He was so shook up, he could hardly tell me about it. He could hardly talk. Any of my regular men would have known what to do and that would have been to call Hal Conner." It is highly unfortunate, indeed, that the raid had to occur with an inexperienced man on duty. It's even more unfortunate Mr. Wilding didn't make clear to him beforehand, what his actions should have been. When asked what he thought of the raid, Mr. Wilding said "It might just have hit this thing right on the head, shake things up a bit. I don't think I have to tell you that they're smokin a lot of pot down there. It might let these kids know that the college is no sanctuary."

Editorial

Why?!!

by James Williams

Since the accrediting commission has strongly stipulated policy changes which would unite the Providence and Bristol campuses it would seem that any moves or proposals in this direction would be to the benefit of the college. Philosophically this may be the case in terms of ideology, however it doesn't seem to be the case with regard to major changes which would strongly affect and improve the college. In any operation the objectives, goals and priorities may be thrashed around ad nauseum but in order for those priorities to function a prerequisite must be established. This prerequisite or tool is finances. This tool operates, all the systems enabling an institution to function. How well or smoothly the operation functions is also due to a large part on how the finances are handled. A policy change in this area has been proposed in the form of a finance committee. This proposal was drawn up by the President's assistant Mr. Shappy and subsequently submitted to the President's advisory board. This proposal was not accepted into actuality by the people responsible for the accreditation. The function of the finance committee as proposed would be to align the total finances of the operation of Roger Williams college under one roof headed by a chairman responsible only to the president and his advisory council. In effect it would become a subcommittee of the advisory council. The people on the committee would be depending upon the area under analysis. The only permanent seat would be the one occupied by the chairman. This proposal was not created as the result of doubt or distrust of the present system but rather as an attempt to unify the twin campuses and give the financial operation of the college a more obvious credibility. What reason is there to believe that credibility exists in the decision to reject a proposal with no negative drawbacks. This does not mean that drawbacks cannot be thought up it simply means that by rejection the existing system remains with its more than obvious drawbacks. The purpose of the activities involved within every accreditation committee is to satisfy the accreditation board that we are ready to become an accredited college. It would seem that every point covered by the investigating board as an area needing improvement should be converged on with a fascination for detail and perfection. The people responsible for assuming these duties should be the people most affected by the outcome of their efforts. In some respect this is true at this time but in a larger sense I am talking about a college which is a name given to a community of people with different functions in that college which enables it to operate. Therefore if the college is accredited all these people with different functions stand to gain in some respect or another. The vice-versa is also true. Now if all these people compose the college it would seem that all these people need a voice in the decisions which direct them. Again, in some respect this is true, although not altogether. The accreditation commission has stated in their report that the goals and objectives of the college need to be rewritten so that their meaning may be made less obscure. There is no committee representing the entire college assuming that duty. How can the whole community work towards a single end if they have no part in defining that end? How can that end be made clear? By the formation of a committee composed of students, faculty and administration. Only then when these people meet as representatives of their peers can specific goals and objectives be realized. It cannot be done by a self-appointed group of people only indirectly concerned with the daily tasks and goals of the rest of the community. It has been attempted and the results were unsatisfactory to the faculty and students, disappointing I hope to the administration and definitely not worth consideration to the accreditation commission. A decision must be made now. March will be too late. It is the responsibility of each member of this community. I haven't neglected to mention the board of trustees, their presence and involvement has been publicly criticized and as part of this college it should go without saying that committees need their ideas and point of view as well as the rest. If these events weren't public knowledge it is understandable why no action was taken. Now it is public knowledge and the blame for non-action does not rest solely on the administration but on the shoulders of every member of this potentially credible community.

Never leave a meeting hating your brothers and sisters, no matter how wrong you think they are.

There will always be differences about the role of the proletariat but these are not important enough (are they?) to make us hate each other.

Never let your wife husband go to bed if anger is all you can communicate to each other.

Never let your children go to sleep thinking that you are angry with them.

Never leave on a trip unless your family knows of your intense love for them.

A Report by The Governance Committee

(NOTE: The objectives, goals and functions of this proposal are exactly the same as documented in the All-College-Council Proposal. The only difference is in the number of members on the council.)

Statement of Objectives for Roger Williams College

"A recognition of the value of a pluralistic society has been one of the most basic concepts of the American experience. Roger Williams College's commitment to pluralism is reflected in its dual campus approach, in its involvement in educational endeavors with and for the local, national, and world communities, and in its belief that students should have a wide choice in determining their own goals and a selection of educational methods to attain them.

Roger Williams is an experimental college with emphasis on liberal arts on the Bristol Campus and with emphasis on professional studies on the Providence Campus. By identifying itself as an experimental institution, the college seeks to find the touchstone of better educational means and to provide a broad range of educational experiences: from the existing traditional to various viable alternatives. As an institution, Roger Williams is committed to the continuing re-evaluation of both the subject and method of the learning experience.

The College has a heterogeneous student body, but has given, and proposes to continue to give, particular attention to "high risk" students."

The Objectives of the All-College Council

Next to the Board of Trustees, the chief Governing Body of the College is an All-College-Council which by virtue of its constitutional nature and through its committees will undertake to:

A. Provide a mode of collegial government to shape the policies by which the missions of the institution is defined and carried out, according to the description set forth above.

B. Participate in the overall development of the College including the areas of education, administration, economics, student welfare, and college relations.

C. Institute and maintain efficient methods of communications between all constituencies of the College Community.

Organization of the Council

The All-College-Council shall be comprised of a 16-member committee and an ex officio secretary:

(1) Two administrators from each of the Bristol and Providence campuses. The President will determine the method of appointment or election of these representatives.

(2) Two full-time faculty members from each of the Bristol and Providence campuses, elected by the faculty of each campus.

(3) Two students from each of the Bristol and Providence campuses, elected by the students of each campus, or they may be two of the elected student officers from each campus.

(4) Four members of the Board of Trustees.

(5) A secretary, ex officio, without vote, should be designated by office held at the College as the permanent recorder for the Council.

Each member of the Council shall have one vote and will be expected to serve throughout the fiscal year. Meetings will be held monthly, or oftener when necessary. The accompanying diagram shows the relationship of the proposed All-College-Council within the administrative structure of the College.

The two Academic Deans together with the two Council faculty members from each campus will form a sub-committee, to coordinate all

S.A.C. Pressures Drama Club

Two weeks ago the Student Activities Committee approved the drama club's budget. In the same meeting the S.A.C. asked the drama club for their office space. Mr. Mathews, aware of their problem for an office, worked out the problem by finding the S.A.C. an office in the teachers pod. Unfortunately the S.A.C. didn't want the teacher pod for their office, they wanted the drama club office. The meeting was closed with no final decision about the office space problem. However, the budget had been verbally approved.

On February 3, the S.A.C. again approached the Drama club about obtaining their office. They offered a compromise in which they would give the drama club the office in the teacher pod in exchange for the drama club office. This proposition had already been turned down at the first meeting. The S.A.C. went on to say that if they didn't get the drama club office, they would re-evaluate the budget which they already approved.

college academic policies. (Instead of a Vice-President for Academic Affairs).

Function of the Council

The All-College Council shall be empowered by the explicit action of the Board of Trustees, and it shall serve as the primary appeals, review and policy initiating body of Roger Williams College. The Council shall have primary responsibility over all-college policy affecting administration, faculty and students.

It shall establish appeal procedures for cases where other channels of authority and communication have broken down.

Matters of major policy approved by Council vote shall be submitted to the Board of Trustees for approval through the President, who will indicate his approval or disapproval thereof. Procedures for handling routine matters will be as set forth in the by-laws drawn up by the Council. Whenever the Board of Trustees

What Happened Rooms 37 & 42?

During the weeks between first and second semester, the Drama Club which has been using rooms 37 and 42 for their Friday night coffeehouse productions, has obtained these rooms permanently. Under the direction of work study student John Griffin, the club has begun to reconstruct the rooms so they would be more beneficial for the drama club and the audiences who attend the plays.

The first manner of business was to take out the accoustical tiles, to make the ceiling higher, and paint the new ceiling black. They spray painted the walls dark plum. Other additions consisted of an exercise bar, speakers, a screen for movies. Permission to do all this came from the president, with help from Ted Hallenbeck.

When the room is not in use by the theater department, it will be available for use as an exercise room for students.

Vernon Court

The Board of Trustees of Vernon Court Junior College in Newport have voted to cease operations and to close immediately. The trustees' decision has meant that buildings are to be closed, doors locked, students' and teachers' personal property moved out, and faculty separated. This decision marks the end of a long, uphill battle by the college to keep from going under financially.

Vernon Court's financial and administrative problems first came to public attention last November 17 when its President resigned unexpectedly. Two days later the College failed to meet a payroll for 30 employees. Last semester only 157 students enrolled in the college, which had reached a peak enrollment of 500 in 1966.

Question: I have very large breasts and nipples. The breasts are obviously a focal point of my body as I am otherwise quite normal in shape and proportion. My measurements are 44-21-36 and I am 5 ft. 5 in. tall. I wear a bra all the time and do not wear revealing clothes, but I am beginning to feel as if I am a freak and wish that men would look at me instead of my bust. Fortunately, my breasts are high and firm; it would be awful if they hung down to my belly button.

Because I am so big I am concerned about breast cancer. Do large breasts have more of a cancer rate than tiny breasts?

Answer: Largeness alone should not change the probability of you developing cancer. However, very large breasts are more difficult to examine and it is conceivable that an early cancer would be harder to detect. Breasts are primarily fatty tissue and are not well supported on the chest. Therefore as all women age, they experience some

In reading your letter my concern is more with the effects of being stared at, and your description of being dealt with as if you are deformed. Nature can be quite unkind in the way she distributes body tissues. Fortunately, some of the things that do not look right can be corrected. Plastic surgeons perform an operation that will reduce breast size resulting in a more normally proportioned body. Such an operation will not interfere with breast function and can be of major long term benefit in terms of reducing postural abnormalities, eliminating problems in buying clothes, and producing a general increased sense of well being. Many women are not aware that such operations exist, since most talk centers around other cosmetic plastic surgery procedures, in-

Question: Can repetitious masturbation using one grip cause pinched nerves in the hand? I get "writer's cramp" very easily with the thumb and first finger, the same appendices that I use to masturbate. Can this be an early sign of arthritis? (This question was written by a man).

Answer: Relax your grip! What you describe is not pinched nerves or arthritis. It is merely some spasms or cramps in muscles. The small muscles in your hand and forearm are not used to being held in a tensed position for as long as it takes you to masturbate or write. Most muscles are designed to contract and relax rather than hold a fixed position. Such cramps can be enhanced by hyperventilation (rapid breathing) which can also produce numbness and tingling in your extremities. As well, spasms of the muscles of the hands and feet are common during sexual excitement. If relaxing your grip doesn't work, try using your other hand.

Question: I take a bath every day and also keep my genital area clean. Is there any other need for douching other than to keep the vagina clean? I have no odor problem.

Answer: Under most circumstances the vagina tends to stay remarkably clean without doing anything. In the absence of a vaginal infection, much so-called vaginal odor may be traced to the area immediately outside the vagina in the vulval area. Adequate bathing usually takes care of most of this. Under some circumstances women do have problems with vaginal odors and douching is recommended. If the difficulties are caused by an infection, a physician must be consulted so that the infection can be identified and properly treated.

Some women who use birth control pills find that they have changes in the normal vaginal secretions and are also prone to develop yeast infections. In such cases, douching is also advisable. Long term use of antibiotics for acne may create a similar need, again due to incidental changes in the environment of the vagina. Many fancies and expensive preparations are sold in drug stores but the old expedient of two tablespoons of vinegar and a quart of warm water works just fine. (White or household vinegar, not wine vinegar.) From what you describe, douching would not be recommended.

Commencement Plans

In a meeting on January 13, the Commencement Committee made the following decisions:

Commencement exercises will be held on Sunday, June 4, 1972 on the Bristol Campus Green. A rain location is being checked into now.

The committee has decided that no hoods will be worn this year; Associate degree candidates will wear gray caps and gowns and bachelor degree candidates will wear the traditional black gowns. An envelope containing tape measure and a data card are being distributed to all seniors. We will need your head size and height before February 25. These will be returned to the second floor of the administration building prior to that date.

The invitations have been chosen and each graduate will receive five invitations for his own use.

After a lengthy discussion, the committee has chosen Dr. Rodolphe-Louis Hebert, Providence Faculty member as main speaker at commencement.

If any senior has any suggestions or ideas which may pertain to commencement, please see one of the committee members who are as follows: Mark Bigelow, Tom Holland, Josette Lichaa, Cheryl Grube, Bob Brombeck, Howie Schaffer from the Bristol Campus. The Providence Representatives are: Steve Jennings, Dick Zagroski, Dave Hochman, George Monahan. Faculty Advisors from both campuses are Paul Langelo, Bart Schiavo, Richard Potter, Anne Barry. Sue Ellen Sanderson and Martha Matzke co-chair commencement details.

Students Look at Job Market

(CPS) — According to a recent Carnegie Commission on Higher Education study American college and university students are gearing their studies to vocational goals.

Undergraduate enrollment in such fields as pre-medicine, pre-law, psychology, journalism, social work, and nursing have risen notably this fall.

Generally, the current economic condition is reflected additionally in the shift away from enrollment in such areas as engineering, education, and physics. There recently has been a sharp drop in employment opportunities in these fields.

The Carnegie study shows that the number of new students entering biology this fall was up by 16 percent over last year's number in a survey of 357 institutions.

There is still a shortage of trained medical personnel and medical schools report a dramatic rise in applications.

At Harvard, the number of biology majors rose 30 percent over last year. And enrollment in organic chemistry, a prerequisite for medical school, has doubled in two years.

On the other hand, enrollment in subjects severely affected by the economic slowdown has dropped drastically.

Journalism and communication arts are among the most rapidly growing areas of study even when the news industry is suffering severe cutbacks in personnel. Journalism enrollment at the University of Wisconsin leaped from 181 last semester to 246 this fall.

Other areas now enjoying an increased popularity, according to the Carnegie study, are ecology, urban studies, city planning, agriculture and theology.

Volunteers In Action

"Open the door and come on in; I'm so glad to see you, my friend. You're like a rainbow coming around the bend." Judy Collins

In this tense and hectic world, so many people are lost and alone. Not one of us is exempt from this feeling of emptiness at various times and places in our lives. But for too many members of this family of man, this feeling permeates each day of their existence. You can do something about it. You can make the difference between the warmth of caring and the frigidity of loneliness. Become a friend, a rainbow, to a person who is lonely, confused, searching for meaning in this wide world of wonder. Life can be beautiful for everyone; we need each other's help.

Volunteers In Action (VIA), as a division of the Rhode Island Council of Community Services, focuses on the needs of the people-in-community and seeks to place volunteers to help out in a myriad of settings. Any interest, skill, talent, feeling you have may be channeled into constructive action and sharing with others — children, adults, elderly, — whose existence would otherwise be so alone and frustrating. VIA will serve you through careful interviewing, orientation, placement, and counseling. VIA supports high standards of volunteer participation at each agency where volunteers are placed. VIA tries to motivate committed people to volunteer their time and services in Participants, and group and individual sessions with a counselor. Physicians will team with counselors and educators to provide valuable tips in the daily struggle to control the habit. While each smoker must do the work himself, Clinic specialists will help him toward a permanent withdrawal.

Together the experts and participants will explore: Effects of smoking on health; cancer of the lung, mouth and larynx; emphysema; heart and circulatory disease; minimizing withdrawal symptoms; controlling weight; incentives and personal motivation; QUITTING, WITH NO BACKSLIDING.

The Withdrawal Clinic for Cigarette smokers answers these and other questions:

1. What are the symptoms related to smoking?
2. Is it ever too late to quit?
3. How do I stop? How can I learn not to smoke?
4. Should I stop abruptly? or gradually?
5. Will I gain weight? Are there health problems to watch for when I begin to stop smoking?

The $10.00 fee must be paid before the first session and is not refundable once the clinic begins. Please remit with this tearoff.

Stop Smoking!

The Rhode Island Interagency Council on Smoking will conduct a Smoking Withdrawal Clinic beginning on February 29, 1972. The clinic will consist of six weekly sessions at Gage Auditorium on the Rhode Island College Campus, Mount Pleasant Avenue, Providence, starting at 7:30 P.M.

The Interagency Council's primary goal is to help people withdraw from their smoking habit. During the last decade irrefutable scientific information linking smoking with lung cancer, emphysema, and heart disease has become common knowledge. As a result, many smokers have grown increasingly aware of the dangers they face. Unfortunately, many who realize the need to quit do not have the will power nor to they know how to break the smoking habit.

The primary goal of this Withdrawal Clinic, open to men and women, 18 years and over, is to help participants withdraw from their life-threatening habit. The clinic will offer lectures by physicians, small discussion groups led by specialists, dialogue between consultants and participants, and group and individual sessions with a counselor.

Graduates of previous Withdrawal Clinics, who are now part of the 29 Million American ex-smokers, will participate in this clinic as group leaders in an effort to give first hand information to others of their withdrawal problems and also show positive proof that quitting cigarettes can be done.

Coordinator for this clinic is Louis A. Marciano, Supervisor for Health and Physical Education in the Providence Public Schools. He will be assisted by Miss Kathy Ryan, Program Consultant for the Rhode Island Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Consultants for the program are Jorge Benavides, M.D., a surgeon and Chairman of the Rhode Island Interagency Council on Smoking; Vincent Calia, Ed. D., Professor and Chairman Counselor, Education Department at Rhode Island College; Richard W. Perry, M.D., Henry Robidoux, M.D., and Leland Jones, M.D., all surgeons; Patricia Wysocki, Ph.D., a faculty Assistant Professor of Psychology at Rhode Island Junior College and Associate Director of the Boston Institute for Behavior Modification.

Registration for the Withdrawal Clinic is now being held. Further information can be obtained from Miss Kathy Ryan at 421-6487. There is a $10.00 registration fee.

The member agencies of the Rhode Island Interagency Council on Smoking are: American Cancer Society, Rhode Island Departments of Health and Education, Rhode Island Heart Association, Rhode Island Medical Society, Rhode Island Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Rhode Island Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Associate members are Rhode Island Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Rhode Island Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

tain modifications, it will convey in writing to the Council the substance of the modifications it desires and the reasons therefore.

The Role of the Board of Trustees

The by-laws of the Board state that, "The Board of Trustees shall have the entire management and control of all the property and affairs of the Corporation (College), and for that purpose they shall have and exercise all the powers of the Corporation which are not reserved to the Members by vote of the Members."

(1) The Trustees of Roger Williams College have a duty to become sufficiently involved in the affairs of the institution to be aware of the changing inclinations of students, faculty, administration and community. They should discover the process of the intellectual society while bringing into it their own competences. They should maintain the ideas of the college while seeking to improve and change its policies and procedures in keeping with the current educational and cultural developments.

(2) More specifically, the Board shall: Assure that the history of Roger Williams College serves as a prelude to its development and growth. The Board shall determine the long-range plans of the College and must be assured that the more immediate policies and decisions of administration and faculty are consistent with the long range plans and policies. It is the obligation of the Board to see that its goals are communicated to the proper constituents of the College.

Relate the future needs of the College to its predictable resources; it is responsible for husbanding all the College's resources; it is responsible for obtaining needed capital and operating funds; and it is generally responsible for personnel. The Board shall have final approval of the budget.

Choose and elect a President whose philosophy and administrative experiences are in harmony with the objectives of the College. The Board will consult with a search committee of the College in making this choice. Be responsible for the preservation of academic freedom. Provide from its members the necessary equal representation to the All-College-Council to fulfill its role as the community representative.

Have the authority to grant new degree programs which can be recommended by the constituent group of the College. After an evaluation of the program has been made by the appropriate dean, the President shall make his recommendation to the Board.

The Role of the President and Administration

The President of Roger Williams College is the chief executive officer. He and his staff are responsible for the implementation of policies approved by the Board of Trustees. He represents the Board of Trustees within the College Community. He and his staff constantly endeavor to incorporate better educational and cultural reforms in a growing and changing society. They maintain, plan, organize, direct, and represent the college.

The President is selected and appointed by the Board of Trustees of the Corporation with an all-

Hawks Crunch F.P.C.

89 - 54

by Pete Bouffidis

Led by Jim Koziara and Ralph Roberti, the Hawks rolled to victory last Monday against Franklin Pierce College.

The Hawks sported a tenacious man to man defense which the Ravens could not penetrate. Roberto Ortiz, clearly illustrating his effectiveness, was a grizzly bear on defense. Throughout the second half, Franklin Pierce even found trouble bringing the ball down without it being stolen. The Hawks also had the height advantage, and led by Roberti, with 20 rebounds, controlled the boards.

On offense, the Hawks were penetrating; getting the inside shots or good percentage outside shots. Roberti proved his versatility by occasionally coming out to the baseline to score. Forward Jim Koziara, who led the Hawks with 20 points, also proved to be trouble by continually driving down the lane for a score or taking outside jumpers.

As for the Franklin five, they didn't have much. On defense, they couldn't lag due to the Hawks' outside shooting, yet couldn't play tight due to the Hawks' ability to drive.

Franklin Pierce played very sloppy ball. On offense, they were limited. They couldn't penetrate inside and were forced to shoot from the outside. Hawk guard Dwight Datcher played tight on 5'11" Al Holloway, due to his outside shooting talents, and thereby forced him to drive, where he had trouble scoring from the inside. All scoring responsibility seemed to rest on the shoulders of Holloway and 6'1" guard Freddie Jones, who scored 14 and 16 points respectively.

On the whole, the Hawks played a good game, minus Strickland (out with an injury); yet, despite their continual second effort, the Hawks didn't play against much and should've won by a wider margin.

The Hawks are now 8 and 6; Franklin Pierce, 1 and 8.

Saturday, the Hawks will play Unity at Portsmouth High School, then meet the powerful Western New England Golden Bears Monday at Our Lady of Providence Seminary.

HAWKS BEATEN BY FEDERAL CITY

Special to Quill

Federal City College avenged an earlier loss to Roger Williams College by defeating the Hawks 111-53 on Federal City's home court. Earlier in the season the Hawks defeated Federal City 91-85 in Newport.

The Hawks suffered from a poor shooting night hitting only 19 of 82 shots from the floor for 21%. While the Hawks' shooting was off Federal City's wasn't. The Panthers shot 64% from the floor for the night.

Bill Hairston of Federal City took scoring honors with 21 points. Dwight Datcher was high for the Hawks with 9 points.

United States Sports Clubs

Unifies Independent Clubs

Special to Quill

A new national organization named the United States Sports Clubs recently surfaced onto the skiing scene. The new association is comprised of previously independent ski and sports clubs.

First to announce their affiliation with the newly renamed organization was the Boston Ski Club, the nation's largest ski club. Other clubs including the Providence Ski Club are expected to follow the B.S.C. into U.S.S.C.

Gerald Milden, previously president of the Boston club was named executive director of the U.S.S.C.

The U.S.S.C. with its combined individual club memberships has set one of its goals to be the largest recreation organization in North America within two years. Milden when questioned about the probability of accomplishing their goal answered, "They told me the Boston Ski Club would never do what it did in the four short years I was president but we did even more, we became the largest ski club in the U.S. and for all we or anybody else knows, we may be the largest in the world." The Boston Ski Club grew from seventy-two members in 1967 to sixty-five hundred and twenty as of January 15, 1972.

A similar growth phenomenon occurred in Providence this past season. The Providence Ski Club closed its books in the spring of 1971 with a little less than 100 members. During the summer of 1971 the club affiliated with the Boston Ski Club. As of January 1, 1972, the P.S.C. had over nine hundred members and expects to reach the one thousand mark by March 1. Explaining his club's ten fold increase in members, the club's president, Ed D'Ambra, remarked, "All we did was listen to the Boston Ski Club officers and it happened." Asked if his club will join the U.S.S.C. D'Ambra answered, "If Milden is in charge of it, we'll be in. That guy really knows how to put it all together."

The purposes of the U.S.S.C. will be to provide a national entity for the regional member clubs. The U.S.S.C. sees as its immediate goal this summer, the founding of regional clubs, or reorganization of existing clubs. Milden plans to follow closely the methods he employed while heading the Boston club. The all activity, all seasonality of the U.S.S.C. will make it different from any existing organization. But rather than being a "catch all" type organization, the U.S.S.C. plans to make available extensive programs in each activity it does offer. The U.S.S.C. on a national level, will show regional clubs how to duplicate what the Boston Ski club has accomplished. The Boston club, for two years now, has offered flying instruction and aircraft rental (the club owns its own airplanes), camping, hiking, canoeing, sailing, soaring, sport parachuting, tennis, cross country skiing, ski instruction and lodging.

"The purpose of this organization as I see it", said Milden, "is to provide a strong back up and experienced force which can show the local or regional clubs how to get things done. But while doing this, the national organization has to remain second in importance and identity to the local club. A good national organization with sound and proven practices can make a local club fantastically successful. Milden said, "As president of the Boston Ski Club, which is undisputably the largest of its type in the country, I still wished I had national contacts, they were the only thing we were missing."

The U.S.S.C. will use the Boston Ski Club's Boston offices as its summer headquarters until suitable and geographically desirable offices of their own are located.

Lincoln Five Defeat Hawks 86 - 76

SPECIAL TO THE QUILL:
February 3, 1972

LINCOLN FIVE DEFEAT HAWKS 86 - 76

The Roger Williams College Basketball Team was defeated by a score of 87-76 at Lincoln University's Gym, Lincoln, Pa.

The Hawks jumped off to a ten point lead at half time 43-33. The Hawks jumped to this lead by shooting 60% from the field in the first half.

In the second half Lincoln University got the shooting touch and made 24 of 36 shots from the field to over take the Hawks. Although the Hawks shot 62% for the game it was not enough to take the victory away from a strong Lincoln University team.

Ralph Roberti turned in an outstanding effort for Roger Williams, scoring 27 points and grabbing 19 rebounds.

Curtis Strickland and Robert Ortiz both with 14 points also aided the Hawks cause. Mayson, of Lincoln U., led all scorers with a 34 point performance.
